

For the recovery by fall of exhausted oil of the engine, the transmission and the differential of motor-vehicles on lifts. The basin is equipped with a grate of support to drip the substituted filters, and it can be regulated according to the height.

